The internet is a wonderful place that offers so many opportunities for children and young people to learn, connect and play. As the internet is always changing, being able to keep up to date with your child's internet use can sometimes feel overwhelming, especially if you feel that your child may know more about technology than you do.

Safer Internet Day provides a brilliant and fun way to discuss and explore online safety with your child. By being part of something bigger, talking about how to stay safe online can be fun, engaging and accessible!

In 2018 we reached 30% parents of in the UK 41% children of UK

Help us reach even more!

The UK Safer Internet Centre wants as many people as possible to get involved in the day and think about how to make the internet a better and safer place. There are lots of ways that you and your family can get involved in the day and also share details of the day with others online. The more people who know about the day, the more likely your child is going to think about the issues that are really important in keeping them safe online.

How you can stay informed and up to date

Leading up to the day we will be giving lots of advice, tips and information about how to keep your child safe online as well as how to discuss how young people ask, give and receive permission online.

Involve others

Help spread the impact of the day by telling others all about what the day offers!

- ▶ Is your child's school involved? If not, visit www.saferinternetday.org.uk and encourage them to use our Education Packs.
- ▶ Has your workplace, or a community group you are involved in registered as a supporter for the day? They can register here and they can access promotional materials to help share what they are doing. Getting them involved is a great way to reach more people.
- ▶ Speak to the people close to you. Grandparents, uncles and aunts and friends will really appreciate you telling them about the resources available and you can share ideas and thoughts!

▶ I'm supporting Safer Internet Day 2019 organised by @UK_SIC who have lots of helpful advice for parents about keeping their children safe online. Find out more here www.saferinternetday.org.uk #SaferInternetDay2019 @UK_SIC

▶ I'm celebrating #SaferInternetDay2019 on Tuesday 5th February! Asking, giving and receiving consent online can be confusing for children. Find out more about how to explore this with your child at www.saferinternetday.org.uk

▶ #SaferInternetDay2019 is a great way to start having those conversations about being online with your child! That's why I'm joining this campaign! www.saferinternetday.org.uk

If you are posting pictures about your child, discuss it with them and think about how they feel! Look at our conversation starters to help you get started!

SID TV

These films complement our Education Packs and help start conversations about how your child asks, receives and gives permission online. The films look at how children and young people of different ages use the internet and explores a range of issues about the safe and positive use of technology.

Watch the films with your child and learn more at www.saferinternet.org.uk/sid-tv
